

WORKPLACE CHALLENGE

March 2019 ~ Workplace Challenge Assignment

Your department is developing a new software application for patient data tracking, so you and the other IT Manager will now have to interact nearly every day. The trouble is that the two of you do not get along very well and have already had some heated discussions about other projects that you did not see eye to eye on.

- What can you do to complete the project despite the rocky relationship?
- Are there steps you can take before starting the project that may lead to a more effective outcome?
- Is it necessary for you and your colleague to be friends to have a productive, professional working relationship?

Please respond to this Workplace Challenge Assignment by typing your response in essay format and uploading it.

This assignment is due by Friday, March 29th.

Your Career Coach will have an opportunity to read your response and discuss on-line his/her thoughts about how you responded. Please feel free to respond back to your Career Coach and ask questions!

Remember:

- Put effort into writing your response.
- Make sure it is written professionally and you proof it before you upload it.
- Your Career Coach may be a future employer or even a job reference - DO THE ASSIGNMENT WELL!
- If you have questions about the assignment, please let Mrs. Blackburn right away (kblackburn@nahecnet.org).
